

SAC Summer Programme Organised by Lisa Stone - instagram: @lisastoneuk

Advised to take to all summer demos: notebook - apron - water pots - pallet - easel or board - canvas or paper - paint - brushes - pencil - pen - your one travel art kit

For our first demonstration of the summer we have the use on Chalkwell Hall in addition to the adjacent Metal Art School. Darren Jones, a well known local musician will be setting up in Chalkwell Hall & Gina Southgate will demo her live gig painting. I am not sure of the sort of number to expect for the summer demonstrations, but should the hall fill up, then the Metal art school will be used for the overflow of members and as always, weather permitting, there is an option to paint within the gardens of Chalkwell Park.

There is a possibility that Chalkwell Hall may be offered to us on other dates & if this is the case it will be posted on the website.

8/4/23 - Gina Southgate - Live gig painter - Painting musician Darren Jones

Subject: live painting of musician, painting in real time on canvas and board. Short studies in mixed media on board or paper.

Medium: Acrylic / Mixed Media (monoprinted collage papers, graphite, oil pastel) on board and stretched canvas

Materials artist will use at demo: Acrylic paint in pots/tubes of various bodies, collage papers, newsprint and tissue paper, cellophane or similar as a surface to monoprint from, 6b+ graphite sticks and pencils, oil pastels, pva glue. Brushes, various sizes, artists and otherwise. Moulding tools and rubber kidney. Anything I like to make marks with. My working surface will be mount board and stretched and primed canvas.

Participants will need a main surface for end piece, this can be a primed stretched canvas or board as big as possible, Acrylic paints to be used generously, always lots of white. An easel or table to work on.

If they have collage materials they like they could bring them.

22/4/23 - Anna Laurini Blue

Medium: Mixed Media

Subject: Abstract, cubistic style portraits

Anna Laurini paints bold lines and curves in a rapid style, urban but clear almost as if she painted ideograms. The ideogram of identity, of the soul.

Mysterious faces like urban sphinxes. A look through the cements, the asphalts and the traffic lights. They look oriented towards the infinite and the inner territories, towards the soul. And those looks recall the depths of the self, of the identities that are diluted in the cities and in the multitudes.

Yet they look at you, quietly, silent: Anna's faces look inside you to remind you of who you are.
